Hawaii Energy is a rate payer based program that incentivizes building energy efficiency by offering rebates on lights, air conditioners, pumps, motors, window film and cool roofs, refrigerators, restaurant equipment, and energy management systems. The rebates are available to non-residential electric utility rate payers on the Big Island, Lanai, Maui, Molokai and Oahu. Rebate application forms are available and downloadable at www.hawaiienergy.com.

Bank of Hawaii offers financing customized to the individual client rather than the particular system or equipment that will be used. When applying for financing, clients should be prepared with the company’s financial statement and the loan amount. If the savings from the project are intended to be applied to the principal payments, it may help with the underwriting if the clients can be prepared with and provide the following:

- Project Budget
- Energy Study
- Useful life of the system or equipment

Lending terms are typically 3 to 5 years shorter than the life of the asset.

According to ASHRAE, typical useful lives of equipment are as follows:
