

NEPA-1

National Environmental Policy Act Categorical Exclusion (CE), Environmental Impact Statement (EIS), or Environmental Assessment (EA)

Permit Packet Includes:

1. Process Overview
2. A Citizen's Guide to the NEPA (December 2007), also available at:
<http://energy.gov/nepa/downloads/citizens-guide-nepa-having-your-voice-heard>

Approval or Permit Required: To assess the environmental effects of proposed actions by Federal agencies or for any project requiring a federal permit, receiving federal funding, or located on federal land.

Contact Information: Cognizant Federal agency

Websites:

Office of NEPA Policy and Compliance:

<http://energy.gov/nepa/office-nepa-policy-and-compliance>

NEPA Guidance by Federal Agencies:

<http://energy.gov/nepa/guidance-requirements/guidance>

NEPA Documents:

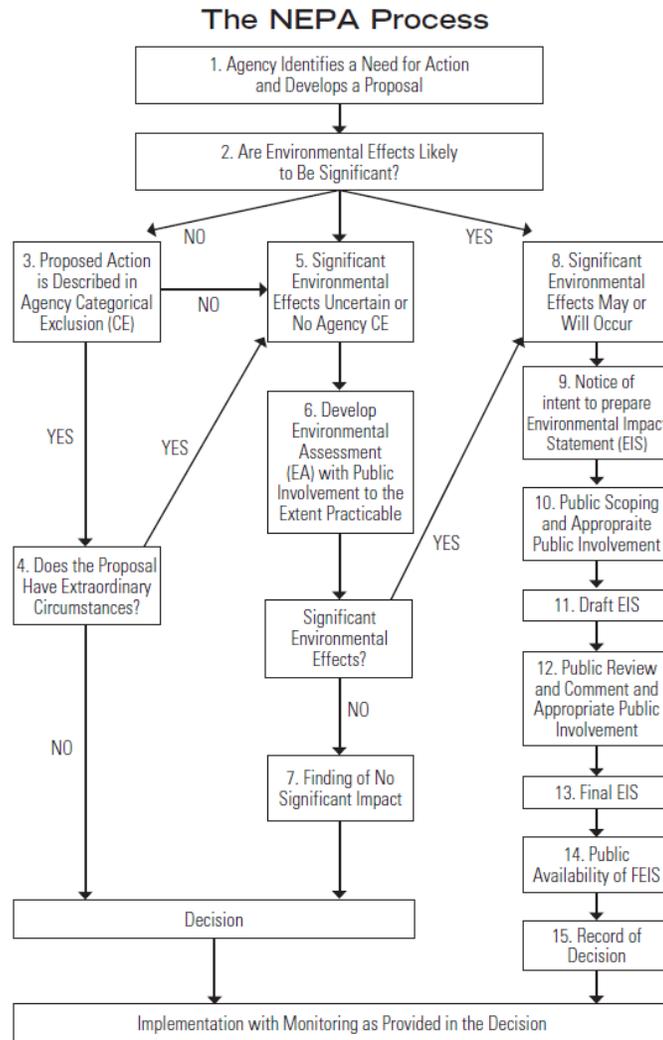

<http://energy.gov/nepa/nepa-documents>

NEPA-1

National Environmental Policy Act Categorical Exclusion (CE), Environmental Impact Statement (EIS), or Environmental Assessment (EA)

Notes:

- NEPA.net is the CEQ's NEPA website that is supported by the Department of Energy: www.NEPA.gov or <http://ceq.hss.doe.gov/nepa/nepanet.htm>. The website includes links to statutes, regulations, NEPA procedures by Federal agency, Federal agency NEPA websites and contacts, publications, reports, and other information.
- NEPA processes differ among agencies and new legislation can change the way NEPA is implemented in agencies.
- The Office of Federal Activities in the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) is the official recipient of all Environmental Impact Statements (EISs) prepared by Federal agencies, and publishes the notices of availability in the Federal Register for all draft, final, and supplemental EISs.

Significant new circumstances or information relevant to environmental concerns or substantial changes in the proposed action that are relevant to environmental concerns may necessitate preparation of a supplemental EIS following either the draft or final EIS or the Record of Decision (CEQ NEPA Regulations, 40 C.F.R. § 1502.9(c)).*

NEPA-1

National Environmental Policy Act Categorical Exclusion (CE), Environmental Impact Statement (EIS), or Environmental Assessment (EA)

Fees	Amount	Maximum
Depends on level of environmental review and analysis required for the specified project	Varies	Varies
Total Fees:	Varies	Varies