Subject: [HIREP Wind EIS] New Comment

A New Comment has been Submitted

It seems once again the outer islanders are forced to make sacrifices to accomidate Oahu residents. There are areas on Oahu that can be used for these wind farms, such as the Kahuku and Koolau areas. I guess it would be too mudh of an inconvenience for the Kailua residents to have their views disrupted by giant wind turbines. Well we feel the same way. Further more I ask you "What's in it for us?" Will we get any lest costly electric rates because we have to look at these eye sores. Enough already the tourist already make unfavorable comments about our exsisting Turbines scaring the mountain side.
