energy industries that stimulates smart economic growth for future generations of Hawaii.

THE CURRENT

In 2016, ESC also recognized the State of Hawaii as an Energy Stewardship Champion for its

Through Shon’s leadership Hawaii has received three National Governors Association (NGA) awards

Solutions that make the biggest difference on fulfilling the state’s energy objectives.

energy planning, policy and programs. That authority has been delegated to HSEO, which is charged

Under Hawaii law the DBEDT director is the state’s Energy Resources Coordinator, responsible for HSEO is a division of the state Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism (DBEDT).

"With Hawaii at the forefront of a growing national and global clean energy movement this is an exciting time to be leading the State Energy Office," Shon said. "The path forward will undoubtedly become more challenging as renewable energy penetration increases, but I am confident we can feasibly meet these goals."

"The burden of climate change has already taken a toll on our communities and economy,..."

"Carilyn has considerable experience, having worked on a number of energy programs and projects,"

"That said, some of the goals have grown bigger as resources have allowed for larger projects. For example, we have grown our efficiency programs to meet the challenges of $2.5 billion in upgrades.

"Energy efficiency and renewable energy programs are more critical than ever in driving..."

"Energy efficiency and renewable energy programs are more critical than ever in driving down energy costs,..."

"We will continue to pursue energy efficiency and renewable energy programs to meet the challenges..."

"With the incredible growth of clean energy and the challenges that lie ahead, the work..."

"Carilyn is taking on a new role as acting director of the State Energy Office and has a wealth of..."

"Carilyn is taking on a new role as acting director of the State Energy Office and has a wealth of..."

"She has been with the state energy office for many years, and I am confident in her..."